

POLYCERATE HORN GROWTH IN JACOB SHEEP

by Lesley Partridge

Jacob sheep grow their horns from the frontal skull bone.

Two horned Jacob sheep have only one pair of horns, which are placed in more or less the same position, (a, b.)

The four horned type exhibit a pair of top horns projecting upwards, while a smaller lower set curve round below the ears.